

This legislation is not consistent with Oregon values. More highway lanes in Portland is a bad investment from an economic perspective, and even worse if we mean to reach our climate goals.

A sin tax on bikes is terrible, raising almost no money but discouraging usage.

A gas tax is appropriate because it discourages driving and pollution. We need funding for bus rapid transit, not more single occupancy vehicles.

Chris Anderson

97211

--

971-235-1414

<http://twitter.com/jchris>