BACKGROUND:

The Driver and Motor Vehicle (DMV) Services Division of the Oregon Department of Transportation (ODOT) issues vehicle registration plates required to legally operate a motor vehicle on Oregon roads. Oregon DMV provides several options for vehicle registration plates; the standard “tree plate” is issued to all vehicle owners unless they opt for one of several alternatives, each of which requires payment of an additional fee. Some of the alternatives are printed on the tree plate and feature a sticker for a university, fraternal organization, or nonprofit organization. Other plates include alternate designs, such as the salmon plate, Cultural Trust plate, Crater Lake plate, Share the Road plate, Wine Country plate, Portland Trail Blazers plate or Gray Whale plate.

Prior to passage of House Bill 2730 (2015), each of these plates was created through legislation; following passage of that measure, an administrative process was put in place by which entities wishing to establish a new license plate design can collect pre-orders for the new plate design and, once sufficient pre-orders are collected, can apply to DMV to begin production.

The Pacific Wonderland vehicle registration plate was originally re-released as a limited edition plate celebrating Oregon's sesquicentennial following passage of Senate Bill 961 (2009). The plates, which feature a blue background with yellow lettering, come with a one-time, $100 surcharge, split between the Oregon Historical Society and the Oregon State Capitol Foundation. Capped originally at 40,000 plate sets, the maximum number allowed was later increased to 80,000, and the cap finally removed with passage of House Bill 4059 (2018).
