Dear Committee Members,

I am writing to stand up for our freedoms. How is it okay for the government to force me to inject a foreign substance into my body or that of my child? To me, that in itself stands alone as reason enough to strike down this legislation. Then we can look at the fact that there are many cases of injury and death resulting from vaccines. Who are we to say these people's deaths were worth it for the greater good? This is not for the government to decide.

The biggest contributing factor to the reduction of disease, including polio and small pox, in my research, is due to improved sanitation and cleanliness. I am not disputing that some benefit has not come from vaccines, but I think we need to move on. The pharmaceutical industry is playing on the fears and ignorance of the public. They are developing hundreds of vaccines for anything and everything. Will we be forced to have all these vaccines? The vaccine companies and the administrators of the vaccines bear no responsibility for any harm that might come from them. This is not right either!

Our healthcare system is broken. Profit is corrupting the process of providing care, which begins with the oath of "do no harm". Our rights as citizens are being infringed upon. Half truths are being presented to the public, which has so much to deal with it cannot look into every issue. If people are vaccinated, then they do not need to worry about those who choose not to vaccinate, because they are protected. Is it right to require one person to take a risk, no matter how small, to protect the health of a vulnerable person, which again the chance that the unvaccinated person is going to interface with a person with a compromised immune system is also so small?

There are inherent risks in life we must all contend with. The government should not force risks promoted by a profit making industry. This is America. We have cherished civil rights that you hold in your hands. Please do the right thing. Below are the documented research that supports my points.

Sincerely,

Joann Landon
