A BILL FOR AN ACT

Relating to large-capacity ammunition magazines; and declaring an emergency.

Be It Enacted by the People of the State of Oregon:

SECTION 1. Sections 2 to 7 of this 2019 Act are added to and made a part of ORS 166.250 to 166.270.

SECTION 2. The Legislative Assembly finds and declares that a prohibition against the possession and use of ammunition magazines that hold more than 10 rounds is a reasonable and necessary measure to promote the public health and safety of the residents of this state.

SECTION 3. As used in sections 2 to 7 of this 2019 Act:

(1) “Armed Forces of the United States” has the meaning given that term in ORS 348.282.

(2) “Detachable magazine” means an ammunition feeding device that can be loaded or unloaded while detached from a firearm and readily inserted into a firearm.

(3) “Fixed magazine” means an ammunition feeding device contained in or permanently attached to a firearm in such a manner that the device cannot be removed without disassembly of the firearm action.

(4) “Large-capacity magazine” means a detachable magazine or a fixed magazine with the capacity to accept more than 10 rounds of ammunition, but does not include any of the following:

(a) An ammunition feeding device that has been permanently altered so that it is not capable, now or in the future, of accepting more than 10 rounds of ammunition;

(b) A 0.22 caliber tube ammunition feeding device; or

(c) A tubular ammunition feeding device that is contained in a lever-action firearm.

(5) “Use” means, in relation to a large-capacity magazine, to load the magazine with ammunition, to insert the magazine into a firearm or to fire a firearm loaded with a large-
SECTION 4. (1) Except as provided in subsection (4) of this section, a person may not possess a large-capacity magazine at any time after 180 days after the effective date of this 2019 Act.

(2) Prior to the 180th day following the effective date of this 2019 Act, a person in possession of a large-capacity magazine who does not qualify for an exception described in subsection (4) of this section shall take one of the following actions with respect to each magazine:

(a) Permanently alter the magazine so that it is not capable, now or in the future, of accepting more than 10 rounds of ammunition;

(b) Transfer or sell the magazine to a firearms dealer licensed under 18 U.S.C. 923 outside this state or to a firearms dealer licensed under 18 U.S.C. 923 within this state for removal from the state, except as otherwise provided in section 5 of this 2019 Act;

(c) Otherwise remove the magazine from the state; or

(d) Permanently dispose of the magazine.

(3) Except as provided in subsection (4) of this section, a person may not use a large-capacity magazine at any time after the effective date of this 2019 Act.

(4) The prohibition on the possession and use of large-capacity magazines in subsections (1) and (3) of this section does not prohibit:

(a) The possession or use of a large-capacity magazine by law enforcement officers or members of the Armed Forces of the United States so long as the possession or use is necessary for the lawful performance of official duties and the use is limited to activities within the scope of those duties.

(b) The possession of a large-capacity magazine incidental to the manufacture or transfer of a large-capacity magazine permitted under section 5 of this 2019 Act.

(5) (a) The possession of a large-capacity magazine in violation of this section is a Class A violation.

(b) Notwithstanding paragraph (a) of this subsection, possession of a large-capacity magazine in violation of this section is a Class B misdemeanor if, at the time of the unlawful possession, the person has one or more prior convictions under this section.

(c) The use of a large-capacity magazine in violation of this section is a Class A misdemeanor.

SECTION 5. (1) A person may not manufacture a large-capacity magazine at any time after the effective date of this 2019 Act except under the following circumstances:

(a) A firearms manufacturer properly licensed under federal, state and local law is permitted to manufacture large-capacity magazines for exclusive sale to the Armed Forces of the United States or a law enforcement agency solely for authorized use by that entity.

(b) A firearms manufacturer properly licensed under federal, state and local law that is a party to a contract, in existence and binding on the effective date of this 2019 Act, with an entity outside this state for the manufacture and sale of large-capacity magazines is permitted to fulfill the contract provided that:

(A) All manufacturing is completed no later than one year after the effective date of this 2019 Act; and

(B) The large-capacity magazines are intended for possession and use outside this state.

(2) A person may not purchase, sell or otherwise transfer a large-capacity magazine at any time after the effective date of this 2019 Act except under the following circumstances:

(a) During the 180-day period following the effective date of this 2019 Act, a person may:

(A) Transfer the large-capacity magazine in order to permanently alter the magazine so that it is not capable, now or in the future, of accepting more than 10 rounds of ammunition;

(B) Transfer or sell the magazine to a firearms dealer licensed under 18 U.S.C. 923 for removal from the state; or

(C) Otherwise permanently dispose of the magazine.

(b) A firearms dealer licensed under 18 U.S.C. 923 is permitted:

(A) To sell large-capacity magazines to the Armed Forces of the United States or a law enforcement agency solely for authorized use by that entity.

(B) To purchase or acquire temporary custody of a large-capacity magazine for the purpose of permanently altering the magazine so that it is not capable, now or in the future, of accepting more than 10 rounds of ammunition.

(C) To purchase or acquire temporary custody of a large-capacity magazine for removal from the state.

(c) With respect to inventory consisting of large-capacity magazines owned by or in the custody of a firearms dealer licensed under 18 U.S.C. 923 on the effective date of this 2019 Act, the dealer shall within 180 days of the effective date of this 2019 Act take one or more of the following actions with respect to each magazine:

(A) Transfer or sell the large-capacity magazine to a recipient outside this state;

(B) Permanently alter the large-capacity magazine so that it is not capable, now or in the future, of accepting more than 10 rounds of ammunition; or

(C) Permanently dispose of the large-capacity magazine.

(3) The manufacture, purchase, sale or other transfer of a large-capacity magazine in violation of this section is a Class A misdemeanor.

SECTION 6. Except as otherwise provided in sections 4 and 5 of this 2019 Act, during the 180-day period following the effective date of this 2019 Act, a person may not import a large-capacity magazine into this state.

SECTION 7. (1) The owner or possessor of a large-capacity magazine that has not been permanently altered shall report the loss or theft of the magazine to the appropriate law enforcement agency as soon as possible and, in any event, no later than within 48 hours of the discovery of the loss or theft.

(2) A person who makes a report in accordance with subsection (1) of this section is immune from a prosecution under sections 4 and 5 of this 2019 Act based on evidence resulting from the report.

SECTION 8. This 2019 Act being necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, an emergency is declared to exist, and this 2019 Act takes effect on its passage.
